THANK YOU NOTES

SIEVERS

Words cannot begin to express the gratitude we feel for all of the love and support we have received during the days leading up to and the days following Ivan's passing.

While Ivan, dad, grandpa leaves us missing our family rock, we are proud of him for the courage and great attitude with which he battled his illness and we are grateful that he is no longer suffering.

If you knew Ivan, then you also knew he would have been humbled and somewhat embarrassed by all of the attention paid to him during the visitation and funeral. Our family is so thankful for the outpouring of respect and appreciation of him and support of us.

We are confident he is in a better place now that the Lord has taken him to be with Him and we suspect He must have needed a hard worker at his side.

Thank you doesn't begin to express our feelings, but it is the best we can do at this time.

Sincerely,
Linda Sievers and Family

Santa makes early delivery to Five for Food campaign

Santa Claus has made his donation to the Five for Food initiative for the Lake City Food Shelf. The Greater Lake City Community Foundation has reported that they are at 22 percent of their goal of 1,400 donations of $5 or more. The Community Foundation is joined by The J. A. Wedum Foundation, Ardent Milling, Mayo Clinic Health Systems Lake City, Lake City Masons, The Lake City Federal Bank Foundation and an anonymous donor in matching every $5 contribution made to the food shelf. It is hoped that the food shelf will be able to purchase $90,000 worth of food from the initiative.

Local organizations and companies have donated $5 for each of their members. Donations have also been received as Christmas gifts in honor of parents, children, grandchildren, and even pets.

Donations should be payable to the Lake City Food Shelf and mailed to The Greater Lake City Community Foundation, P. O. Box 86, Lake City, MN 55041.

EXTENSION INFORMATION

5 WAYS TO 'SHOP SMART' DURING THE HOLIDAYS
U of M Extension Service

Families can come through the holiday shopping season with their finances intact by approaching their purchases with simple guidelines.

"For many people, shopping and Black Friday are customary fun with family and friends," said Mary Jo Katras, University of Minnesota Extension family resiliency program leader. "It's important for families to remember that the basics of family finances are just as relevant during the holidays as they for the rest of the year."

Here are five shopping-savvy tips to help keep holidays affordable and less prone to stress:

• Go into holiday spending with a budget and stick to it. It may seem obvious, Katras said, but ignoring a budget is a common – and guaranteed – way to wind up with regrets. (This information also is available at z.umn.edu/spendsmart).

• Do your homework. Reading the fine print on coupons can help prevent exasperation and an unintended hit on the pocketbook. Compare costs before leaving home. Ask yourself: Is the time I'll be spending in line worth it?

• Just as budgeting isn't solely a holiday task, talking with youth about financial decision-making shouldn't be a holidays-only conversation. Use holiday spending as a way to start the "money conversation." Honest discussions also can help manage expectations. (This information is also available at z.umn.edu/youthdollars).

• Spend cash only. Setting a fixed amount – and sticking with it – helps families stay within budgets. Or, only use a debit card for holiday gifts and budget a set amount.

• Be tech-safe. We're more vulnerable to online theft during the holidays. For instance, internet thieves take advantage of busier online traffic by using "sniffing" technology, allowing them to steal credit card information being used on unsecured sites or wi-fi connections. Follow simple steps to keep information safe online. This information is also available at z.umn.edu/protectinfo.

"When it comes to gift-giving, it really is the thought that matters for most people. The holidays can be a great time for families to make gifts together or start or renew a family tradition that focuses on something other than spending," Katras says.
