Shape your community: Florence Township invites residents' input for Comprehensive Plan update

What should Florence Township look like in 10 or 20 years?

If you're a township resident and care about where new homes are built, the future of our parks and open spaces, protection of farmland and natural resources, local business opportunities, or transportation needs, now is the time to make your voice heard.

Florence Township is launching an update to its 2013 Comprehensive Plan, the document that helps guide growth, development, public investments, and long-term community priorities. After more than a decade, the township is revisiting the groundbreaking plan to reflect current needs and prepare for the future.

We are seeking input from residents, property owners, farmers, business owners, and anyone with a stake in Florence Township. Public feedback will help identify the most important issues facing the community today and shape goals for the years ahead.

Key topics for input

Land use: Where should housing and business development occur? What land should be preserved for agriculture, recreation, or open space?

Natural resources: Which sensitive areas, wildlife habitats, wetlands, shoreland, blufflands, or other natural resources should be protected?

Parks and open space: How can public outdoor spaces be improved? Community heritage: How can historic sites, landscapes, and buildings be preserved?

Transportation: What improvements are needed along Hwy. 61 and throughout the township?

Economic development: How can Florence Township support existing businesses and encourage appropriate new opportunities?

Join the conversation

The township will host four public meetings to gather feedback and shape the plan. All sessions will be held at the Florence Town Hall from 9 a.m. to noon:

Saturday, May 30: Identify and confirm community priorities
Saturday, June 20: Update goals for each focus area
Saturday, July 25: Finalize goals and priorities
Saturday, Aug. 22: Develop strategies for implementation

Residents are welcome to attend one meeting or participate throughout the process.

Why attend?

These meetings are not just about "checking a box." The feedback gathered will help guide future policy decisions, grant applications, infrastructure planning, land use decisions, and community investments. Whether you have a specific concern, a long-term vision, or simply want to learn more, your participation matters.

To receive Comprehensive Plan updates, sign up for the Township's distribution list here: https://florencetwpmn.gov/compplan.
