'Change the Narrative' on mental health, suicide

By Tina Moen
SHIP Coordinator
Wabasha County
Please join Aubree Derksen, Extension Educator, Family Resiliency and Tina Moen, Wabasha County SHIP Coordinator for Changing the Narrative on Mental Health and Suicide community conversation at the Lake City Public Library on Oct. 29 at 6 p.m. where we will have an interactive conversation that empowers participants to change perceptions of mental health towards hope and resilience.
Talking about mental health and suicide can be an uncomfortable and uncertain topic that brings up different feelings, beliefs, and attitudes for everyone. Changing the Narrative is an interactive conversation that empowers participants to change perceptions of mental health towards hope and resilience.
Throughout the session, participants will engage in dialog about being intentional in the words we are using. Certain ways of talking about mental health and suicide can alienate members of any community, sensationalize the issue, contribute to a decrease in help seeking behavior or even present suicide as a glamorous, preferred way of dealing with problems. Having healthy conversations about mental health and suicide avoids harmful messages that might increase suicide risk in individuals or undermine suicide prevention goals. By doing this safely, it reduces stigma, mitigates risks, promotes help-seeking, and respects all individuals.

SHIP is a state-based program that works at the local level to support healthier communities by expanding opportunities for active living, healthy eating, wellbeing and tobacco-free living, thereby helping to reduce the leading causes of chronic disease.
For information on what it means to partner with Wabasha County SHIP on healthy eating, physical activity, wellbeing, and/or commercial tobacco free environment projects, please email tmoen@co.wabasha.mn.us or call 651-565-5200.
